

Bad Credit - Credit Cards - Many Issuers

Contributed by Webmaster

By Arthor Pens

Bad credit - credit cards are offered by many banks and financial institutions to help people regain a good credit score. They also can allow a person with poor to bad credit a chance to obtain a credit card and in today's time that is almost a necessity. These types of cards are designed for two specific needs.

1. To offer credit when bad credit is holding you back from getting a card.
2. To help you regain a good credit score, by making payments on time and staying under your limit.

Credit cards for bad credit can certainly help you get out of debt and rebuild your credit score when used correctly. The Rewards 660 Visa Card, issued by Dakota State Bank, is a credit card designed for those with a bad credit history (but does come with a start up fee. You can get lower interest rates and higher credit limits, when you prove to your lender you can pay on-time and meet all the terms.

If you have been turned down before because of your FICO score, here are a few more options from reputable issuers: Continental Finance Gold, Orchard Bank and First Premier Bank. These issuers offer credit cards specifically designed for consumers with bad credit and has helped millions of people increase their FICO score and get their credit back on track.

Finding a good comparison of all the bad credit credit card issuers can easily be found with the help of the internet and by shopping around you can find the issuers with the best interest rates. Be aware that not all agencies guarantee a credit card even if you are willing to pay the high interest (the interest rate could be as high as 40 percent) that comes with these types of cards. Some credit card issuers also place high annual fees to provide a card to consumers with a bad credit history.

Be sure that any of the cards you apply for reports to all of the major credit bureaus or it will have no affect on your Fico score. Having a poor credit history usually does restrict your options and will result in the interest rates you pay being much higher than a good credit history because of the higher risk to the lender.

The author is the owner & operator of several successful financial websites for bad credit credit cards. For credit cards for people with bad credit visit our website today.

2008 <http://www.ez-credit.us> - All Rights Reserved.

Credit Card